...We need to look at the bigger picture.

As we are approaching lent next week let us have a closer look at today's readings. The first reading tells us how lepers were excluded from the community and how they had to even shout out "unclean" to make sure not to pass on the disease to anyone. With an illness like this, life was over for many. They were kept away from the community away from everyone. What kind of life quality was left for them?

The Psalm opens our hearts to acknowledge our wrong doing in order to receive God's mercy. Don't we all know too well about temptations and challenges out there. But do we really appreciate God's gift of mercy? God's unconditional love for us – and every day his invitation to reconcile with him?

The second reading makes no difference between Greeks, Jews and Christians. The commandment of loving our neighbour means we look at the bigger picture. Instead of pointing fingers we need to welcome everyone into our parishes, communities, families. Jesus himself told us,

"For I was hungry and you gave me something to eat, I was thirsty and you gave me something to drink, I was a stranger and you invited me in, I needed clothes and you clothed me, I was sick and you looked after me, I was in prison and you came to visit me." (Matthew 25, 35-36)

The gospel brings us back to the first reading. A leper came to Jesus and asked to be cured. From the reading we know that lepers were excluded from the community and seen as outcasts. But Jesus' love doesn't have any boundaries. He heals the man from his illness by touching him. With this touch the leper is healed and therefore can re-join the community. He can start his life all over again. Also Jesus made it very clear to him not to talk about this miracle – he couldn't help it and told everyone about it. Don't we all know how difficult it is to keep a secret (especially a good one, a new job, a new house, an engagement etc.) Most of us are dying to share good news with our friends and family. But for Jesus this had huge consequences. He was unable to stay in the town and share his good news because he cured a leper – by touching him. Don't we all know about people that feel excluded from our parish? Jesus is pushing us out of our comfort zone – he challenges us by going the extra mile to reach out to those who do not feel part of our community.

With all that in mind – how are you going to follow his example? Where can you make someone feel welcome? Where can you reach out to someone living on the margins?

Our thoughts and prayers are with their families at this time

Lent

Lent begins on Wednesday, 14th February. In addition to the morning Masses there will be an evening Mass at 7.30pm. Ash Wednesday is a day of Fast and Abstinence. Ashes will be blessed and distributed at all Masses. Ashes will also be available to be taken away for the sick and housebound.

Garden: Taking as the theme for the Lenten Garden, erected in Sacred Space (Sacred Heart Altar), Pope Francis' exhortation for the World Meeting of Families "How much better family life would be if we say PLEASE, THANK YOU and SORRY more often" we are asking communities, church, social clubs etc. to try this. Taking on new habits can be painful and we need reminding. The Lenten Garden will have a cross signifying that we embrace the cross lovingly.

There will be prayer cards available for you, for whatever your Lenten journey is, to hang on the tree. Please feel free to sit by the garden, place a plant or just reflect in silence. The garden will be void of colour, so no flowers please, then at Easter we rejoice with glorious colours.

To help us with our "Taking On" Catherine Leigh of Human Life International has asked for our Lenten exercises and prayers be offered for the protection of life especially in the present climate with a referendum on the horizon.

Ministers of the Environment

Please Note: in addition to the morning Masses there will be an evening Mass all through Lent - Monday to Friday.

Honouring St. Brigid on her feast day in style on a particularly cold morning during the week - organized and hosted by the Transition year students of Colaiste Bride under the direction of their teacher Michelle Dooley.

We acknowledge and appreciate the work they put in to make the occasion a fitting tribute to our beloved Muire na Gael. The cuppa and biscuits available in the Pastoral Centre after the walk were indeed very welcome and served up delightfully by the students.

Congratulations to Tommy Keogh who won the LAMA All Ireland Community & Council Silver Prize Award as Community Volunteer of the Year for his lifetime of voluntary work for his community. Tommy was nominated by Councilor Breda Bonner & South Dublin County Council. The Awards ceremony was held on Saturday last in the Croke Park and was hosted by Marty Morrissey. Tommy is a regular contributor to the newsletter, a worthy recipient of the award and always attend with his camera whenever he is asked.

Congrats to the girls from Coaliste Bride who were commissioned as Eucharistic Ministers and to Eddie O'Connor on being presented with the Benemerenti medal.

VALENTINES ARE RED, WEDNESDAYS ASHES ARE GRAY, YOU CAN'T SPELL VALENTINE WITHOUT 'LENT' ON THIS DAY.

For the first time since 1945, Valentine's Day & Ash Wed fall on the same day this year. "That is when the World war ended and food was scarce" - my granddad. "Well it is far more difficult to fast now because of the vast amount we have" But I will try to do something - maybe give up doing this space - only joking!

Alex and Adam Leonard enjoyed last week's quiz.

Monday Club 5 February 2018

Today we had a great crowd in the club where we welcomed Joe Leonard who came to tell us in the early days of pilgrimages. We had a beautiful "Thank You" card from Fr Bala in India. He is very thankful for our welcome, our donation and continued prayers for him.

The new directory of 55+ Daily Activity in South Dublin County 2018 is in circulation containing all information of different clubs and activities for the over 55s. Every day of the week there is something to do from line-dancing, bingo, art, arts & crafts, card and board games etc. Sr. Anne brought to our attention an IMMA Art workshops in MISA (Mercers Institute for Successful Aging) in St James's Hospital. All workshops are connected to the current exhibition in the Irish Museum of Modern Art. All works are by Brian Maguire. Booking is essential as places are limited to 12.

There was a letter and posters from the National Children's Hospital, Tallaght regarding the National Pancake Party from 12 to 16 Feb. The proceeds of this fundraiser go to helping improve facilities for sick children in hospital. We will be having ours in a week or two. Anyone wishing to make a donation may do so in the club.

We had a very interesting talk by Joe Leonard on pilgrimages to Lourdes in the early days. Many of us know that Joe is a great man for history on many things, trains, planes etc. He started by telling us a bit about Lourdes, the apparitions to St Bernadette, her family becoming destitute, etc. Pilgrims in the early days mostly travelled overland. Then, planes started carrying pilgrims to Lourdes when there was nothing more than a strip for a runway. There were only a small handful of people being accommodated on the planes and cargo planes were adapted to carry stretcher cases.

Lourdes today has a modern airport catering for huge crowds of pilgrims coming from over the world. Joe gave dates of when Aer Lingus started flying and the types of planes that were used at the time. Those who went to Lourdes those days were really on pilgrimage. "Thank You" Joe for the most interesting and detailed history of the times.

Condolences to the family of Norah Maher who died during the week. Norah used to be a frequent attendee of the club until she became unable to come in the past few years. May she rest in peace.

Next week we welcome LOCALISE to celebrate St Valentine's Day.
