Sunday of the Divine Mercy

GOING ABOUT DOING GOOD

My alarm clock went off at 5.45 on Easter Sunday morning and my initial reaction was of surprise and annoyance that I had set the alarm so early. I quickly realised that the reason for the early rising was to attend the dawn Mass at Corkagh Park scheduled to begin at 6.30. It was pitch dark as we made our way to the park and I could see other people making their way to the Mass site at the blue lake. By the time we completed the preparations it was getting brighter. The choir from Row-lagh and Quarryvale Parish led the congregation of nearly two hundred in joyful hymns giving praise to God on a cold Easter Morning. Every parish in the combined Catholic Parishes of Clondalkin was represented and it proved to be an excellent conclusion to the Triduum celebrations. The morning Masses in the village were very well attended maybe boosted by celebrating Baptisms during Mass but it was great to see a full Church. Once again thanks to all who gave of their time, talents and skills to make the Holy Week, Triduum and Easter Sunday liturgies a great success.

The Liffey Valley outreach took place on Holy Saturday and we had a great number of visitors, some who were curious, others wanted a prayer said or a chat and more wished to go to confession, some of whom hadn't received the sacrament in many years. It had a touch of the early disciples and followers of Jesus who brought the Gospels to the market square.

You will have read in the paper or may have seen the posters for the Brazilian man Caique Trindade De Oliveira who went missing. His friends called into the church to pray for his family and for the young man himself. Sean Brown, the village sacristan, noticed they were very upset and had the presence of mind to call the Spiritan Fathers in Bawnogue and Deansrath two of whom speak Portuguese. Fr. Pat Coughlan came immediately and the group held an impromptu prayer service whilst Sean organized coffee and cakes for them. Unfortunately Caique died and a requiem Mass took place in our church the Wednesday of Holy Week. His Mother, family and friends were present for the Mass which Fr. Edvaldo from Deansrath presided alongside Fr. Pat and Fr. Pdraig. The Brazilian community expressed their appreciation to the parishioners and people of Clondalkin for their kindness and support. A special mention was given to members of An Garda Siochana from Clondalkin Station for their support and care for his family and friends. In this Easter time we commend Caique and all our deceased to God's loving care and the outreach to those in need is an example of living out the Gospel values.

The pupils from Scoil Mhuire will be in attendance at the 10am Mass on Monday 9th April.

The children from Scoil Áine and from St. Joseph's Boys School will attend the 10am Mass on Friday 13th April.

A collection will be held after all Masses on Saturday 14th and Sunday 15th April for the Parish Lourdes Fund Appeal. We ask you to be as generous as you can -thank you.

Do you think you have magic powers? Do you think you're strong enough to ring a bell so everyone in the church can hear it? Do you think you are smart enough to remember eight jobs in the right order? Then I want to meet you on Thursday 12th April straight after school (about 2.35pm ish) to be trained to become an Altar Server. This is the first of five meetings. Being an Altar Server is a very important ministry during the Mass.

It means you are actively involved in the Liturgy. If you need more information, please get back to me, Christina Malone, Parish Pastoral Worker, on 085 716 2152.

Baptised at Easter using the newly blessed Easter Holy Water.

The Clondalkin Handcraft and Horticultural Show will be held this year during the Clondalkin Village Festival over two days - 30th June in Newlands Garden Centre and 1st July in Áras Chronáin.

"This year's event is already shaping up to be a great community day out. We have free demonstrations on the 30th June and music on 1st July. To help organize and keep the event safe, we need volunteers.

Please contact me if you can help out at all. This event is another great chance to showcase the great talents and skills of local people in Clondalkin and the rest of South Dublin County Council.

This year we are opening it up to entries from every town in South Dublin County Council district. We look forward to a great event and call out for community help to make it the best Handcraft and Horticultural Show yet!"

Swieconka—Polish Blessing of the baskets—on Holy Saturday is one of the most enduring and beloved Polish traditions and we were privileged to have the Polish Community in Clondalkin to share the tradition with us. The Church was filled three times and the beautifully decorated baskets of food were blessed by Fr Padraig

The hardy souls who braved the early morning dew and bitterly cold wind to celebrate the Easter Morning Dawn Mass, while many of us were just turning over for a second sleep. Tommy Keogh was there to capture the moment.

“No problem” was the response we got to our requests for help when decorating the church for the Easter ceremonies.
 “Thank you” to Paul who did the climbing, the greenery came from Nora Cusack’s garden, courtesy of her daughter Anne who told us to hack away and we took her at her word, Eddie who sourced the barrel used for the Easter Holy water, in previous years we found the old container was not sufficient because of the big demand for newly blessed Easter Holy Water.
 Newland’s Garden Centre who are always helpful, our priests, Pastoral Council. A special “thank you” to the people who helped in any way.
 The photo opposite of the Altar of Repose on Holy Thursday features trees “on loan” from Newlands Garden Centre and flowers donated by the family of Caique Trindade de Olivera from Brazil whose funeral Mass was celebrated the previous evening.
